

FOOD SECURITY & NUTRITION INITIATIVE 2025

SOS SAHEL Celebrates African Youth Day

African Youth Day is a day set aside each year to promote the increased recognition of youth as key agents for social change, economic growth and sustainable development in all areas of African Society. It is an occasion to celebrate the youth on the continent and an opportunity to channel youth motivation, energy and creativity towards political, social and economic renewal.

Since 1976, SOS SAHEL has contributed to local, regional & international programs on food security and nutrition with a focus on mitigating desertification, climate change, migration and poverty among vulnerable communities in the Sahel – notably women and youth. SOS SAHEL engages local communities and local authorities and provides them with the tools they need to grow these development initiatives, working together towards achieving the sustainable development goals.

SOS SAHEL would like to invite all of our stakeholders & development partners to join us in our 2025 Food Security and Nutrition Campaign which aims to bring development actors at all levels together in one systematic platform to empower women and youth as we implement food security and development projects across the Sahel.

The future of Africa depends on our youth. They will be tomorrow's leaders & decision makers and in order to have a long-term, sustainable impact, they must be informed and involved. Today is the time to act together to make the African development agenda 2063 a reality.
